MATTHEW MARAN

Since 2000 Matthew Maran has travelled the world winning awards for his landscape and wildlife photography in the European Wildlife Photographer of the Year and Travel Photographer of the Year competitions. His work has been published worldwide in films, books, conservation journals and magazines including BBC Wildlife and National Geographic.

Matthew is a London based photographer currently specialising in recording the urban wildlife and landscapes of Hampstead Heath.

Matthew says: "Hampstead Heath is a place to engage with nature, somewhere close to home to sharpen my photography skills and produce inspiring images of a place I have been connected to since my childhood.

At just five kilometres from the city centre and dubbed the 'Countryside for Londoners' the Heath is a great place to escape the busy city, breathe fresh air, stand among old growth trees and take in the spectacular views'.

This exhibition of new, large format panoramic images centres on the Heath's familiar and hidden landscapes. It marks the mid-way point of a long-term project that focuses on capturing the Heath through the seasons and is due for release as a hardback book in spring 2016, by Hemisphere Publishing.

All photographs are mounted on aluminium with an acrylic overlay
